ENGLAND AND HER SOLDIERS.

BY HARRIET MARTINEAU.

"Let me speak proudly.—Tell the Constable
We are but warriors for the working day;
Our gayness, and our gilt, are all besmirched
With rainy marching in the painful field.
There's not a piece of feather in our host
(Good argument, I hope, we shall not fly),
And time hath worn us into slovenry;
But, by the mass, our hearts are in the trim."
KING HENRY V., Act IV. Scene 3.

"I know already by your forwardness, that you have deserved rewards and crowns; and we do assure you, on the word of a prince, they shall be duly paid you."
