Note. The "Brookes," after the Regulation Act of 1788, was allowed to carry 454 Slaves, She could stow this number by following the rule adopted in this plate, namely of allowing a space of 6ft by 1ft 4 In to each man; 5ft 10 In by 1ft 4 In to each women, & 5ft by 1ft 2 In to each boy, but so much space as this was seldom allowed even after the Regulation Act It was proved by the confession of the Slave Merchant that before the above Act the Brookes had at one time carried as many as 609 Slaves, This was done by taking some out of Irons & locking them sparrow wise (to use the technical term) that is by stowing one within the distended legs of the other.

THE MILLION DOLLAR HOODS PROJECT

Enter the Map Room

Los Angeles operates the largest jail system on Earth. At a cost of nearly $1 billion annually, more than 17,000 people are caged every night in county jails and city lockups. But not every neighborhood is equally impacted by L.A.'s massive jail system. In fact, L.A.'s nearly billion-dollar jail budget is largely committed to incarcerating many people from just a few neighborhoods. In some communities, local authorities are spending more than one-million dollars annually to lock up residents.
